

CHS U.S. economic impact

CHS contributions to the U.S. economy include not only the direct activity of the company's ag, energy and corporate operations, but also the indirect and induced effects related to CHS supplier and employee earnings. Through its operations and investments, CHS supports jobs, business revenues and taxes for households, businesses and governments. Estimates are based on CHS 2014 operations.

CHS U.S. direct, indirect and induced contributions related to operations

$1.2B in federal, state, and local taxes

For every CHS employee, 5 total jobs are supported throughout the U.S.

Other contributions

U.S. investments

Each year, CHS makes substantial capital investments in construction, machinery, equipment, tanks, grain storage, IT, and other equipment.

Grain purchases

CHS is a global leader of grain sourcing and marketing.

CHS supports jobs across the U.S.

Supporting jobs across the economy

Direct, indirect and induced jobs by industry

Patronage dividends

As a cooperative, CHS makes dividend payments to owners (patrons). These payments support induced impacts across the United States.

Figures may not appear to sum due to rounding.

1 Indirect contributions result for CHS purchases from U.S. suppliers.

2 Induced contributions result from CHS and supplier employees' household spending.